

“Rushmoor Christmas Angels” March 2018

Hello everyone, I cannot believe that in 8 months time we will be getting ready to launch “Rushmoor Christmas Angels 2018 ☺

You may remember in our last newsletter we mentioned that one of our angels was only found a few weeks into January so it is always worth checking back with the FB page to see how our angels keep appearing throughout the year. Well, it would now seem as though another Angel had found such a good hiding place last Christmas that she was only discovered after the snow had clear up a week or so ago. As you can see from the picture on the left she looks like she had quite a hard time of it, but thankfully she survived and is now being looked after. If you placed angels around Bell Chase in Aldershot last Christmas she could be one of yours.

I received the following email a few days ago.....it is so nice when the givers also receive....

“I have recently been having to clear out my Aunts flat, she is now in a nursing home and very frail, and amongst her knitting was about 5 angels needing their wings stitched on. I will undertake completing them and adding them to 2018's collection.

Sadly, I also lost my father on New Years Eve and one of my fellow knitters made and placed an angel on my wreath on my front door - it was a lovely moment to be a recipient. It now sits next to a photo of my father. I also found comfort knitting angels while sitting with my father during his last few days. One of which I shall leave out for my Mother this Christmas.

Kind regards Alison”

How amazing is that?

It might be nice if in the next newsletter we could have an idea of how many angels have been made already. Please don't worry if you have not even started yet as I know some of you manage to knit your heavenly host in a matter of weeks. But if you could send through the amount you have it would be interesting to see how many angels have been produced so far and I will include the total in the next mailing.

Once again thank you all that you do in making this project the success it is.
